

Project 2: Skin lesion classification

- Extract image feature from skin lesion and use machine learning method to classify different lesions. The robustness of the algorithm needs to be demonstrated by the recognition of augmented images.
- Data: 200 skin lesion images and another 400 augmented images
- Evaluation: Classification results
- The test data is also augmented from original data

